LYNCH POSSE TRAPS WAR VETS Plans Law to Rebuild Local NAACP

Peace Restored

National Aide Here To Revive NAACP Work

By CHARLES S. PRESTON

Rebuilding of the Indianapolis Branch NAACP, to aid in halting the wave of reaction now surging across the country, was under way this week as the organization launched a "short and swift" two-weeks membership drive.

Members of the "interim committee" which has been guiding reconstruction of the local NAACP met with Donald Jones, national assistant field secretary, at the Serate Ave. YMCA Tuesday night. Plans were laid for the intensive membership campaign and the election of officers, which was scheduled for Sept. 16.

As representative of the national office authorized to reconstitute the local branch, Jones said that he will stay in this community until the branch is on a going basis. He plans to give guidance and help in the membership drive, as the first necessary step in rebuilding the vitally-needed organization.

Suspended Last Spring
The local branch's activities came to a halt last April when its charter was suspended by the national office NAACP, which removed from office Lowell M. Trice, the then president. The dispute was carried into the courts, with suits and countersuits. NAACP Special Counsel Thurgood Marshall made two visits to the city in connection with the affair. Peace was restored late in May by a settlement worked out in the court of Judge Earl Cox. Since that time the branch's affairs have been guided by Willard Ransom, appointed as trustee by Judge Cox, and the interim committee, composed of the executive committee of 1945 and 1946. Aron D. Bowling was elected chairman of the interim committee.

Trice was present at Tuesday night's meeting, and pledged his support to the membership campaign. McCabe Betty was named.

Ga. Governor

Predicts Opinion of Public Will Kill KKK

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (ANP)—Gov. Ellis Arnall of Georgia said here last week "that the Ku Klux Klan, a movement that can't bear public scrutiny" will be crushed by the South if the public continues to expose its activities.

Governor Arnall, active in condemning and working against Klan activity in his state, said most reforms executed in Georgia during his regime will be safe from "ill-considered action" in the future because they were written into the new state constitution.

Only judicial action can change the unit vote system, he feels, and said it now is being challenged through court action. This system recently elected Eugene Talmadge to another term as governor although he polled a smaller vote than his opponent, James V. Carmichael.

Arnall advocated adoption on a nationwide basis of the 15-year-old voting age now in effect in Georgia. "This would lead to progressive stages in citizenship. These boys had a part in fighting for their country and should be allowed to help run it," the governor continued. He opposed setting up a "veterans' party," explaining that he felt veterans should work within the existing political framework.

SLAYER OF TWO PLEADS GUILTY; GETS LIFE TERM

A daring legal defense move for the second time within a week has saved a man from the electric chair.

Henry MacDonald Brown, 40, received a sentence of life imprisonment in the Indiana State prison after he pleaded guilty to a charge of first degree murder in Criminal Court Friday of last week. Sentence was pronounced by Judge William D. Bain.

Counsel for Brown electrified spectators in the courtroom when he announced at opening of the scheduled trial that his client wished to change his plea from not guilty to guilty. He was charged with first degree murder and by pleading guilty could have been sentenced by the Court to death in the electric chair.

The state's attorney said the state felt satisfied with the life sentence in view of the lack of complete framework.

MRS. F. MORGAN, MORTICIAN, TO BE BURIED TUES.

Mrs. Fannie O. Morgan

Funeral services for Mrs. Fannie O. Morgan, oldest colored funeral director of this city, will be held at St. Phillips Episcopal church Tuesday morning at 10 a. m., with Rev. Father Jones officiating.

Mrs. Morgan, at the age of 83, died at her home, 912 North West St., Monday at 1 o'clock following an illness that began last January. She had been in the funeral business here 45 years, and was widely known and admired for her activities in social, civic, religious and fraternal circles.

The body will lie in state Sunday at the funeral home on North West st., where Mrs. Morgan lived.

JIMCROW FLARE, WOMAN SUES TWO RAILROADS

TERRE HAUTE — A damage suit for $7,500 was filed against the Louisville & Nashville R. R. Co. and the Chicago & Eastern Illinois R. R. Co. in Vice Superior Court here Thursday by attorneys for Mrs. C. O. Slaughter, who declares that she was the victim of inhumane treatment in being compelled to change to a jimcrow coach last Dec. 20, contrary to the laws of the state of Indiana. Mrs. Slaughter lives at 3517 E. Orange

The suit asks $2,500 compensatory damages for an illness contracted by standing for 30 minutes in the snow in sub-zero weather, and $5,000 punitive damages for the discriminatory action in denying equal accommodations. The plaintiff's attorneys are W. S. Henry and P. L. Harden of Indianapolis. Harden was present during the incident on which the action is based, and was subjected to the same treatment as Mrs. Slaughter and numerous other persons. He declared that he observed viciously, and was "almost thrown off the train" as a consequence.

At Evansville Station
The incident took place at the Union Station in Evansville, on a bitter day of last winter's early cold wave. A number of Negro passengers were on the south-bound train from Chicago, and they stated that they had been informed they would not have to change coaches, if they went in the front coach. However, at Evansville a porter informed them, according to reports:

"All you colored passengers must move out of this coach to the platform where your coaches will be standing."

After protesting strongly to no avail, the passengers, complied with the instructions, but when they reached the platform the jimcrow coaches had not been brought up. They were compelled to wait half an hour, standing in the snow, before the two coaches

"Follow Arrests"

Ga. Mob Members Will Face Murder Charges

MONROE, Ga., (ANP)—The state of Georgia will prosecute members of the mob which lynched two men and their wives here recently if and when they are caught, it was announced here last week by District Solicitor B. Marshall Pollock.

Murder charges will be placed before the Walton County grand jury "in the event arrests are made," Pollock stated, adding that FBI agents, most active in the investigation, will be witnesses.

Although the FBI has increased its men here from 15 to 20, there were no indications this week that the case is near solution. The federal agents reportedly are trying to learn identity of the tip-off who informed mob leaders that Roger Malcolm, one of the victims, was being released from jail, where he was held on a charge of stabbing the son of his white employer.

It was pointed out that prosecution of the slayers under the civil rights act would subject them to a maximum penalty of five years, if conspiracy charges were proved. The state law covering murder provides life sentence as the maximum penalty.

Loy Harrison, who bailed Roger Malcolm out of jail a few hours before the ambush slaying of Malcolm, his wife, her sister and the latter's husband, is the only known eyewitness to the lynching. He has told authorities he "doubts" whether he could identify members of the mob, although none were a mask. He has declared that while one member of the mob held a gun to his head, others dragged the victims from his car, lined them up in a jacket and shot them.

THOUSANDS OF HOOSIERS SEE THRILLING EAST-WEST CLASSIC

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 18—It was a gay, happy party that almost 10,000 fans who held fight night for the 14th annual classic of the baseball world, the East-West All-Star game.

Visitors from all parts of the country were present, reaching the scene by plane, train, bus and private car. Streets leading to the park were thronged with fans as early as 10 a. m., although the game was not scheduled to start until 3 p. m. Ominous clouds held a threat of rain right up to starting time when a well-earned sun propitiously yielded his cheering rays as a blessing for the great occasion.

The 45,474 visitors responded generously to an appeal by the

VIOLENCE IN DIXIE BIGOTRY WIDE SPREAD

DANVILLE, Va. (ANP)—Race tension is spreading in several Southern states, according to reports reaching this city through persons who have recently traveled in the lower South. The danger spots are confined mostly to small towns in rural areas where democratic principles have never had much of a chance.

Race riots are likely to burst out in any small city or town below the Mason and Dixon Line, these sources say. This city has had a wave of violent deaths and murders within the past two months. The Brambleton, Va. riot in Norfolk, Va., where whites attempted to prevent Negro families from moving into a so-called white community, has already led to two clashes between whites and Negroes and may any day result in a serious interracial clash.

Travelers from Alabama and Georgia report that no Negro is safe in the small towns and rural areas of these states, where white mobs at the least provocation may take the law in their own hands and deal swiftly and ruthlessly with innocent Negroes.

Unless the federal government takes a firm hand in maintaining order and law in these troubled areas, innocent Negroes will be at the mercy of white hoodlums and reckless, prejudiced local officials, including sheriffs, police, judges and prosecuting attorneys. No many of these can be depended on to protect the Negroes.

VET OF 5 WARS, AGE 106 YEARS, DIES IN CITY

Richard Miller

Funeral rites for a 106-year-old veteran of five wars, Richard Miller, 1109 N. West st., were held in the George M. Miller Mortuary Wednesday, Aug. 21. The burial was in Crown Hill cemetery. The services were conducted by Capt. (Rev.) Robert Skelton, former army chaplain. The aged veteran was the oldest known resident of Indianapolis. He was born at Bombay India January 12 and died here Saturday Aug. 17.

Mr. Miller came to the United States with his parents and settled at Detroit later going to a farm near Danville, Ky. About 1862 with his father and brother he entered the first Negro unit of the Union Army, the Fifth Kentucky Cavalry. He fought under Gen. U. S. Grant at Gettysburg.

PISTOL SLAYER CONFESSES TO KILLING WOMAN

By Opal L. Tandy

TURNER HARWELL

Turner Harwell, age 33, an Indianapolis decorator, was bound to the Marion County grand jury Thursday in Municipal Court Room 1 by Judge John L. Niblack a few hours after he had signed a full confession of the brutal slaying of his attractive girl friend, Mrs. Wendell F. Willis, 629 Locke st., apt. 378.

Visibly nervous and remorseful for his deed, Harwell signed the confession for detectives Plez Lee Oliver and Michael Smiley early Thursday evening after the officers had grilled him for several hours in detective headquarters. They say his motive was jealousy. When he had read his statement over for discrepancies Harwell, a normally quiet and submissive person, signed in Oliver and Smiley's presence and then broke down his outcries could be heard in the corridors of the police station.

Photographed
His nervousness somewhat subsided, Harwell was led up to the identification room where he was photographed and fingerprinted. An hour after, Harwell sat across

Riot Threat Follows Clash of Motorists

MAGEE, Miss. — John, Bill and Garfield Craft came out of a swamp near here Tuesday and surrendered to police officials, ending a lynch posse roundup of 300 officers and civilians, in which a pack of bloodhounds had been used in surrounding 17 Negro men, women and children in the swamp.

The three Craft brothers, all war veterans, surrendered after their mother, Mrs. Rachel Craft, went into the swamp looking for them.

The conflict began in an alleged highway altercation between members of the Craft family and Ray Sullivan, white. Sullivan said that one of the Crafts fired at him when he asked that a wood truck be moved from the middle of the highway.

Smith County Sheriff Glynn Hester and three other officers then surrounded the Craft home, they said, and were fired on and wounded in a gun battle that ensued.

The Craft family, together with their neighbors the Hubbards and the Coopers, then fled into the swamp. The sheriff and deputies organized the posse that soon set out behind baying bloodhounds.

L. T. Hubbard was the first to be captured, after he was wounded by a fusillade from the posse. W. O. Craft and Albert Craft, Jr., an 11-year-old boy, were then captured and beaten into submission.

Members of the Cooper family and finally, the three Craft brothers, were then captured.

Two of the men captured were reported held in the Magee jail, while 14 others were taken to Jackson. Those who are not members of the Craft family were held as material witnesses. Nothing could be learned of the whereabouts of the women of the three families.

ATTEMPT PLANE RESCUE OF YOUTH FROM LA. MOB

MINDEN, La. — Efforts of the NAACP to rescue by airplane Albert Harris, 17-year-old lynching witness who was being pursued by a mob, were balked near here Tuesday when Harris failed to meet an NAACP representative.

The youth was said to have been left for dead by a mob which lynched John C. Jones, 26-year-old war veteran, near this town two weeks ago. Harris was shot in the shoulder and feigned death until the mob departed, when he reportedly set out in the direction of the nearby Louisiana-Texas border. On learning of Harris' escape, the mob re-formed and started out to find him.

NAACP representatives resulted in a quick decision at NAACP New York offices to bring Harris to the North by airplane. Reasons for his failure to meet the NAACP representative were shrouded in the

MAN'S MYSTERY DEATH SOLVED BY POLICE

By Opal L. Tandy

The mystery surrounding the violent death of Levi Watkins, age 33, over a month ago was cleared up this week with the announcement of detective chief, Howard Sanders, that Willie Jones, age 32, 331 Toledo st., linked with the case since its primary stages, has been bound over to the Marion County grand jury on a charge of first degree murder.

Watkins, a diabetic cripple with a lengthy police record died at City hospital July 29 under questionable circumstances after having been a patient there for one day. A routine hospital autopsy showed that he died of a skull fracture.

Patrolmen Clyde Ashby and William DeJarnett found Watkins at his home in a semi-unconscious condition. Previous to his death hospital doctors treated him as a diabetic. When a deputy coroner post-mortem examination corroborated the hospital doctors' report detectives of the homicide bureau began an investigation. Chief Sanders, at first despairing of a fool play theory. The detectives and deputy coroners said that Watkins, an admittedly heavy drinker could have suffered a diabetic coma and fell against his stove inflicting fatal head injuries. But police photographs in the crime laboratory revealed no hair or blood stains on the stove.

Later a uniformed policeman received information that Wat-

HAMPTON, Va. — Outbreaks of organized violence such as the recent lynchings and beatings of Negroes in the South reveal a growing threat of Fascism in this country. Dr. Clark Foreman, president of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, told the Hampton Institute Summer Convocation here last week.

Pointing out that Negro veterans had been the victims in nearly every case, Dr. Foreman declared:

"Men who went away to fight for democracy have died because of lack of it here. Almost without exception the victims were guilty only of standing up for their rights."

"This is no racial matter," he said, "the graduating class of '32, the faculty and many visitors. The organization of prejudice is the prelude to Fascism. Violence and discrimination against one group easily spreads to other groups and other parts of the country."

U. S. Like Germany?

"We blame the German people because they did not resist more effectively the growth of Nazism in Germany. We must also blame ourselves if we sit idly by the growth of Fascism here."

There are signs, said Dr. Foreman, that people are beginning to realize citizens must be alert to stand for democracy here as they fought for it overseas. The fact that Georgia citizens are contesting the nomination of Talmadge for Governor because of the "clearly unconstitutional" county-unit vote system is one such example, he declared.

"I believe," predicted Dr. Foreman, "that the Supreme Court will in October decide that Mr. Talmadge has not been nominated for Governor of Georgia."

Vicksburg and in other famous battles.

He reenlisted in the Fifth Cavalry after the end of the war, later returning to the farm, after farming for a while near Danville, Ky. He joined the Ninth Cavalry, fighting in Indian campaigns, along the Mexican border, in the Philippines and the Boxer rebellion in China. He was awarded a certificate of merit signed by President Theodore Roosevelt. Mr. Miller retired from the army in 1905, ending his army career while serving as a cavalry instructor at Fort Riley, Kansas.

Mr. Miller was an honorary member of the American Legion and a member of the order of Masons, Junction City, Mo. Lodge No. 58. His son George M. Miller, a veteran of World War II, served in the Philippines on some of the scenes where his father had fought over forty years ago.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Emma Miller, age 74, a sister, Mrs. Dill Sagar, age 108, St. Louis, a half brother Will Miller, 64, and son, George M. Miller.

the table from Oliver and Smiley and unfolded to them the story behind his actions last Wednesday night when he fired three shots into the back of Mrs. Willis as she sought to flee from him in the bedroom of her Lockefield Garden apartment.

Harwell said that his mind went blank when his popular girl friend known as "the lipstick girl" said he was silly for wanting to marry her and throw his engagement ring on the floor. He fired three times, he said, but did not think he had killed her. He didn't know he said, until he read the morning paper while hiding at a friend's home on the Eastside of town. He had been the object of a city-county-wide search for several hours when police and detectives finally got a "tip" that he had been spotted.

Hours before this, Lieutenant Preston Hunter, and Sgt. Jesse Hadley, had "played" themselves in the vicinity of Harwell's home for hours during a drizzling rain waiting for him to show up. They missed him by a short while.

Premeditated

His entire statement to detectives Oliver and Smiley covered less than two typewritten pages but inside those pages just one or two paragraphs may constitute his undoing, because he admitted that he went away and stayed for several hours, and then came back and shot Mrs. Willis, Chief of Detectives Howard Sanders said that this alone was an admission of premeditated murder which can bring down a death sentence.

arrived and were coupled on. The Jimcrow coaches were described as dirty, dilapidated and vomit—little better than box-cars. They were extremely cold, as they had allegedly been standing in the open yards for many hours without any heating provisions. The Negro passengers, already suffering from their vigil in the platform, were herded into these cars for the completion of their journey.

Contracted Severe Cold

Mrs. Slaughter's suit is based in part on the fact that she contracted a severe cold as a result of the experience, being confined to her bed and under a physician's care for three weeks. She contends that if the railroad officials had shown reasonable thoughtfulness, the passengers could at least have been allowed to remain in the front coach until the Jimcrow section was made up.

Furthermore, Mrs. Slaughter's attorneys charge that the use of a Jimcrow section is a violation of Indiana law. In this contention, they are supported by the Indiana Civil Rights Law, which declares: "All persons within the jurisdiction of said state shall be entitled to the full and equal enjoyment of the accommodations, advantages, facilities and privileges of inns, restaurants, eating-houses, barber shops, PUBLIC CONVEYANCES ON LAND AND WATER, theaters and all other places of public accommodations and amusement."

mystery of the youth's whereabouts.

Harris was promised "security" by Harmon Drew, Assistant District Attorney for Webster Parish, if he returns to Minden to testify on the lynching. However, the NAACP viewed this promise with extreme suspicion.

It was revealed that Harris's father was beaten in an unsuccessful effort to make him reveal his son's whereabouts. A man named Walker, to whom Harris spoke while making his escape, has been missing from his home for several days.

Harris and Jones were seized by the mob after they were released from the Minden jail, where they had been held for a week without charges. The mob, including at least one woman, burned Jones to death with a blowtorch and mutilated him badly with a meat cleaver.

The NAACP said its investigators learned the names of five members of the mob.

WINGS OVER JORDAN CHORUS WILL APPEAR IN CITY THURS., AUG 29

The internationally famous Wings Over Jordan chorus, organized and directed by the Rev. Glenn T. Settles, Cleveland, Ohio, will appear in a program in this city at Cadle Tabernacle, Thursday evening August 29.

The program will start promptly at 8 p. m. The local appearance of the famous choir is sponsored by the First Baptist church of Irvington.

The famous choir made a ten months' tour of Europe for USO Camp Shows and was the only chorus to go overseas. The European audiences of the Wings Over Jordan chorus in France, Germany, Italy and Belgium totaled millions of applauding listeners.

The chorus received two special citations from commanding generals in the European Theater.

Rev. Settles feels that music is the greatest power in building good-will between peoples of different races and creeds and his faith in music to create brotherhood has been rewarded amply.

The Wings Over Jordan chorus of twenty blended voices has been broadcasting over CBS coast-to-coast network more than seven years.

The chorus received from Major General E. M. Almond in Italy the highest citation civilians can receive from the army. The members of the chorus were later invited to take part in special ceremonies at Genoa, Italy which restored the ashes of Christopher Columbus to their original resting place where they had been before Nazi occupation.

Business Woman Advises War Vets

GARY — Veterans were urged to complete their education or to learn a trade or profession by Mrs. Marjorie Stewart Joyner of Chicago, national beauty college supervisor, here last week. Mrs. Joyner spoke at the closing program of the Southside Business and Professional Men's Association exposition week.

Mrs. Joyner urged young people to return to school. She also said that there is a need for more factories and plants owned by Negroes.

Others who appeared on the program included John E. Gilroy, representing the school board, Nathaniel Sayles, the Froebel Alumni; Howard Hill, Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity; Mrs. M. Cunningham, Mothers of World War II; Miss Vera Jefferson and Fritz Graves, representing youth; Walter A. Murray, Miss Doris Scott and Miss Dolores Goodson, soloists; and Father Barry of the St. Monica Church who gave the invocation.

Members of Calumet Legion Post No. 99 posted the colors. Charles Bonner was master of ceremonies, and Miss Jean Fosssett was crowned queen of the exposition.

A memorial service was held for the late Lieut. William Patrick McHerson.

Educational Needs Of Atlanta Cited By Citizens Group

ATLANTA—The gross inequality in school facilities for Negro children and white children here is dramatically shown in a folder issued recently by the Citizens Committee on Public Education.

Entitled "The Negro School Child in Atlanta: A Report in Pictures," the folder declares that "our city's expenditure per Negro pupil is but little more than ONE-THIRD of the amount spent for each white child."

Other shocking facts which are presented in the folder include: Negro elementary and junior high school pupils get only 2 1/2 hours of schooling per day, as compared with the 6 hours given in white schools.

Negro schools have no auditoriums, no gymnasiums, only a few ill-equipped shops. Bush Mountain, one of the Negro public schools, does not have indoor plumbing.

Teachers in Negro elementary and junior high schools have an average of 52 pupils per class. Negro classes average 29 pupils. There are only two kindergartens for approximately 1,600 Negro children. There is a kindergarten in each elementary school for white children.

WILLIE JONES

MAN'S MYSTERY

Kins had been beaten to death with a wine bottle and a club. He gave this information to the coroner's office including Jones. Three were turned loose. Jones was held under a charge of vagrancy with his bond set at $10,000. Eight days later Kavanagh and Whisler reported that they needed one more key witness to clinch the case. The witness was out of town.

Last week Miss Estelle (Bobby) Johnson, age 32, 436 1/2 Tippecanoe st., made a statement under oath in the coroner's office. She said that in the predawn hours of July 28th she saw Willie Jones, who roomed with Watkins, rushing with him on their back porch. She said that Jones struck the middle-aged cripple with a covered object that looked like a wine bottle. Later, when Watkins fought back as Jones tried to drag him into the house, Miss Jones said, he struck him several times with a club and finally did pull him into the house.

The next morning, Miss Johnson said, she went to "see about Watkins" when a neighbor told her that he was very ill and needed attention. Unable to aid him, Miss Johnson called police.

A subsequent investigation by the detectives unearched other witnesses who testified that they had seen Jones beat Watkins on several previous occasions.

Immediately after Miss Johnson signed her statement, Sanders ordered Smiley and Kavanagh to file a charge of murder against Jones. He was bound over by Judge John L. Niblack and is being held in the Marion County Jail without bond.

LOCAL NAACP

To head the campaign, with two competing teams to bring in the memberships. Team captains are Andrew W. Ramsey and Richard Miller.

Calling on all progressive citizens to rally to the NAACP's campaign to bring members into the organization's ranks. He asked that persons interested in the drive get in touch with him at Betty's Drive-In Barbecue, 532 W. 24th St., telephone WA. 0481, or at his home, 2706 Paris Avenue, (TA. 8424).

Finance Committee Named

A special Campaign Finance Committee was set up to handle all funds which are obtained during the membership drive. Members of the committee are J. Wallace Hall, chairman; Willard Ransom and Robert G. Cole. It was believed that this committee, through careful check-up of funds received, would ensure the prompt delivery of membership cards and other benefits to all who enroll as members.

Persons who were members in good standing at the time of the local branch's suspension will be entitled to vote in the forthcoming election of officers, Jones declared. Cards will be sent out, stamped with the NAACP seal, to all those who are eligible to vote. At the same time, last year's members will be urged to renew their memberships during the current drive. This provision was in accord with the agreement reached in the dramatic "courtroom settlement" in May.

LEVI WATKINS

SLAYER OF TWO

pletely decisive evidence on which a jury might be expected to vote the death sentence.

Brown was involved in the most sensational murder of last year. Claiming he had proof of his wife's infidelity, he fatally wounded the wife, Mrs. Hattie Brown and the alleged lover, Rev. Gilbert Little, in the Brown home, at 2054 Columbia avenue in mid-afternoon of a Sunday in last September.

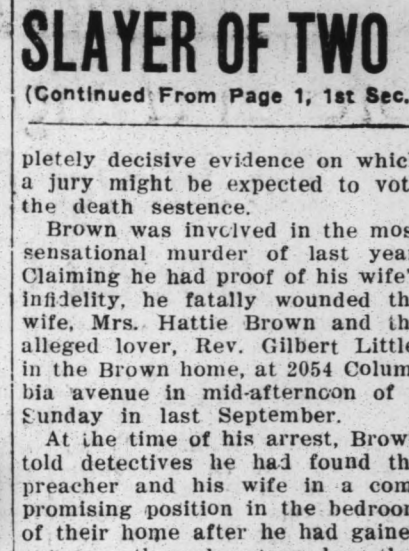

At the time of his arrest, Brown told detectives he had found the entrance through a trap door that led from the basement. The first shot from his automatic shotgun struck Mrs. Brown in the chest, killing her instantly. As Rev. Little fled through the front door, Brown fired a bullet striking the minister in the back. Brown followed him outside and pumped two more bullets into his victim's chest and back.

Rev. Little also died instantly. Detectives, who were at first inclined to accept Brown's story, undertook a careful investigation after a Recorder newsman pointed out glaring discrepancies that indicated Brown had deliberately planned the double murder.

Instead of being released at the preliminary hearing on a plea of justifiable homicide, Brown was bound over to the grand jury which subsequently returned two charges of first degree murder.

At the hearing before Judge Bain, the state used Capt. Wayne Bear and Mrs. Little, widow of the slain preacher, to make its case as required by law. On the witness stand Brown acknowledged counsel and waived his right to jury trial and announced his willingness to place himself at the mercy of the court. Rufus Kuykendall represented the prosecutor's office in the case and Atty. Henry Wilson, Jr., represented Henry McDonald Brown, the defendant.

The weak link in the chain of evidence gathered by the state was the inexplicable refusal of the slain woman's daughter, Mrs. Willie Mae Davis, 21 years old to aid the state by repeating on the witness stand the story she told a Recorder reporter at the time of the murder—that her father lured the preacher to his home and slew him and his wife without having left home, later to return finding his wife and Rev. Little in the manner he told detectives. Mrs. Davis, the eldest of five children, was living next door at the time.

ed. Burial following cremation at Flanner and Buchanan's will be in Crown Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Morgan, who reached her 83rd birthday December 6 last year, was born in Wilberforce, O., where she attended public schools, later being graduated from Wilberforce university. As a young woman she taught school in Galveston, Texas. She was married to the late Oley Morgan, Springfield, O., and for a number of years operated with him a funeral business at Owensboro, Ky. They came here in 1911, establishing the funeral home at the present address.

Mr. Morgan died in 1915. Mrs. Morgan continuing the business singly until 1933, when she was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Cora Franklin until her death in an automobile accident in February 1945.

Mrs. Morgan was widely beloved for her sunny disposition, charming smile and the vigor and earnestness with which she pursued an intense interest in community life.

She was a member of Sisters of Charity Lodge No. 10; the Old Settlers club; the Women's Council and the Altar Guild of St. Philip's church; of which she was a member, and the Phyllis Wheatley YWCA.

For many years she operated as a fashionable dressmaker and seamstress, giving expert instructions to many young women she employed in her shop.

Survivors include two brothers, Grover Harding, Indianapolis and George Harding of Wilberforce, Ohio; a sister, Mrs. Minnie Coates of Cedarville, O., and a number of nieces and nephews including Miss Vera Larrie, this city and Oliver James Smith, Xenia, Ohio.

Funeral services will be in charge of Daugherty Moore and James Shaw, embalmers and funeral directors connected with the Morgan Funeral Home.

Dear Bride to Be: Can you imagine a wedding without photographs? "Incompleteness" isn't it? If you make appointment in advance, our service is yours for as long as necessary.

There seems to be a remarkable agreement among people on what photographs to have. Usually a picture of the entire group—then, the bride alone, the bride and groom—maybe the flower girls—the bridesmaids—and it is nice to have still other groupings of parents—even relatives. Often a wedding comes near being "a family reunion."

We always provide three proofs of each pose—and you may keep the proofs long enough to give those concerned ample time, to express their preference.

Respectfully yours, Mr. Thomas Ervin, Photographer.

P. S.—We will photograph weddings, church, groups anywhere in Indiana.

CANNERY OPENS: Opening Monday, Aug. 18, for the 1946 canning season, the Flanner House cannery at 812 N. West Street, boasted a new $2500 boiler installation. The 35 horsepower, oil fired boiler which will facilitate the canning of fruits, vegetables, meats and poultry, is the same as used by army services after establishing a beachhead. The installation was made under the direction of Paul V. Jewell, head of the Vocational Aids Division of Flanner House and acting director of the Self Help Division.

The cannery is open Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. and Tuesday and Thursday from 2 p. m. to 9 p. m. Saturdays will be held open for special appointments. Supervisor of canning process is Mrs. Esther Nall (shown above) of 2941 Paris avenue, who received training in home economics at Indianapolis teachers college, now consolidated with Butler university.

"Canning your own food makes it possible to beat the possibility of rising prices on canned goods after fresh foods are removed from the market," said Jewell. "The new boiler makes it possible for all equipment to be running at full tilt. Not only does one save money, but the canning process has been speeded up."

Jewell cited two examples of economy in canning. Mrs. Mag-nolia Kirk, 1026 North Pershing st., canned 55 cans of peaches on her first day. She paid $3.90 for her peaches and $2.95 service charge on the cans, costing her $7.84. If she had bought 53 cans of peaches it would have cost her approximately $20.14 at $3.8 a can.

Mrs. Emma Porter, 936 North Sheffield st., canned 31 cans of peaches and 21 cans of beans. She grew the produce in her own garden and paid $3.90 service charge on the cans. If she had bought this amount of food it would have cost her $15.98 at $3.8 a can for the peaches and $2.6 a can for the beans.

ALL STAR NINE OF WEST LOSES
TO EAST'S TEAM AT WASHINGTON

By GEORGE LYLE, JR.

WASHINGTON (NNPA)—Paced by the no-hit, no-run hurling of Barney Brown, southpaw ace of the Philly Stars, the East took a 6-3 game from the West in the annual all-star game played at Griffith Stadium here Thursday night before 15,632.

Brown's performance was the outstanding piece of work in the game, which saw aces of the Negro American League opposing their Eastern rivals, the Negro National League, as he faced only nine batters in the three innings he worked on the mound.

His mates, however, proceeded to work on Dan Bankhead, fireball pitcher from the Memphis Red Sox who has compiled an outstanding record in the West, and two runs were scored in the opening frame.

East-West Diamond Classic Won by West

U.G.A. National

Top Golfers of Land Head for Pittsburgh

By Vincent H. Johnson

PITTSBURGH (ANP)—The United Golfers association will hold its 17th open annual championship here from Aug. 27 to Aug. 30, to mark the first national golf tournament among Negroes since 1941.

Host to the affair will be the Yorkshire Golf club. Fifteen annual amateur championships and 13 annual women championships highlight the tourney agenda. The tournament will be played at the beautiful South Park golf course.

Players from all sections of the country are slated to participate. With new players entering the contest, a new record for entries will likely be established. Professionals will play 72 holes to decide their championship. Among those to defend their titles will be Robert P. Ball, four times champion and present title holder; Cliff Taylor, amateur champion, and Mrs. Cleo Ball, women's champion.

Other professionals to be on hand are Howard Wheeler, T. Rhodes, Solomon Hughes, John Denny, Porter Washington, Hugh Smith and Clyde Martin. The eastern contingent will be led by Dr. G. W. Adams, Washington, president of the United Golfers Association, J. Hudson, Philadelphia and Cliff Adams, New York; Porter Washington, Boston.

Representing the middle west will be Joe Louis, Dr. Remus G. Robinson and Eddie Jackson of Detroit; Dr. V. O. Beck, Cleveland. Players from other midwestern cities include A. James, Duke Adams, Bonnie Hughes, L. Frierson, John Grey, Matthew Bivins, M. Blair, "Country" Jennings, T. Wells, Leon Motts, Ralph Chilton, Aaron Payne, Robert Landrum and Vincent H. Johnson, U.G.A. treasurer.

Officers of the United Golfers Association, besides Dr. Adams and Johnson, are Sea H. Ferguson, vice-president, Indianapolis, and A. D. V. Crosby, Columbus, O., general secretary. This championship will depict the progress the Negro has made in golf since 1926, many golf experts believe.

Sportswriter's View

Jackie Robinson Now Styled Model Player

JERSEY CITY (ANP)—A trip to the Brooklyn Dodgers' Montreal farm recently by Red Smith, sports columnist for the New York Herald Tribune and former ace of the Philadelphia Record's sports staff, brought the observation that Jackie Robinson, former UCLB ballplayer and currently an infielder with the Royals, is a "model ball player."

Smith reported that although Robinson limped an ankle during a slide a third base recently, he did, however, look good in relieving balls for the batting practice pitcher, and points to his short baseball record as being that of a big-time leaguer. While he has been injured several times this season, Robinson is the second batter in the International league with an average of .352, the second base stealer with 31 thefts and playing second base instead of shortstop, the first time in his life, constituted one-half of the league's deffest double-play combination, and is regarded as the major attraction at home, or on the road.

The Royals manager, Clay Hopper, declared, "I think he's a major leaguer. He goes hard all the time and he has great hands for an infielder. He seems a little frail, though. Gets hurt. Maybe because he goes so hard."

Since the beginning of the season, Robinson has not hit less than .330, although he is not a "powerful" hitter, legging out a good many hits and excelling at beating out bunts. He has a total of 106 hits to his credit, scoring 78 runs in 301 chances, with three triples, three home runs and 15 doubles. He has knocked in 44 runs.

SCHOOLBOY OF CAL. HEADS FOR BIG LEAGUE

CHICAGO (ANP)—One of the best pitchers seen in high school baseball since Bob Feller was drafted by the Cleveland Indians is Gene Richardson of San Diego, Calif., declares a pictorial feature "Player of the Year," in the September issue of Ebony.

In the Southern California three-game championship playoffs, the article states, Richardson yielded no earned runs and struck out 54 batters in 27 innings.

Selected as player of the year for 1946 in Southern California High Schools, Richardson is a 5-foot, 10-inch lefthander, 18 years of age and weighs 165 pounds. His best pitches are a quick-breaking drop, a change of pace curve, and a deceptive fast ball. Winning 14 out of 15 starts this season, Gene's only loss was chalked up to errors and the resulting unearned runs.

Exceptionally cool under fire, the youthful southpaw fields his position well and has good control. Gene has never hurled a no-hitter but has several one and two hitters to his credit. In the final game of the championship series the only hit off Schoolboy Gene was a scratch single that fast fielding could have snuffed out.

JERSEY JOE WALCOTT KO'S TOMMY GOMEZ

NEW YORK (NNPA)—Jersey Joe Walcott, the Cinderella Man of boxing, knocked out Tommy Gomez, of Port Tampa, Fla., in 1:21 of the third round of their scheduled 10-round main bout at Madison Square Garden last Friday night.

The 30-year-old Camden, New Jersey, boxer had his rival down twice before Referee Frank Fullam called a halt to the proceedings. In the second round, Walcott floored Gomez with a right to the jaw and the Southerner was on the canvas when the bell ended the round at the count of five.

In the third Gomez was still in a fog and was visibly shaken by a right to the jaw shortly after the round got under way. Walcott was cautious and did not rush in for the kill. He stalked Gomez until there was an opening and crashed a long right to the jaw that sent Gomez to the floor.

Gomez went down, landing half out of the ring, on the apron. He was up at the count of nine and took a few wavering steps, getting behind Referee Fullam. Walcott tossed a punch that grazed the referee's shoulder and struck the badly dazed Gomez and knocked him into the ropes. Fullam stepped between the fighters, ending the bout.

Gomez, with a record of 43 knockouts in 56 bouts in the sticks, did not have much to offer against Walcott, a veteran boxer. Walcott entered the ring a 5-to-17 favorite to win, and the 5-to-6 choice to score the victory by a knockout. He weighed 191½, as against 182½ for Gomez.

The crowd numbered 11,467 and the receipts amounted to $47,886.

DODGERS MAY CALL JACKIE TO SPRING CAMP

NEW YORK (ANP)—Latest reports from Brooklyn and Montreal are to the effect that Jackie Robinson, sensational Negro player with the latter team, has earned a right to tryout with the Brooklyn team next spring.

Robinson, who is hitting at a .361 clip with Montreal while fielding second base brilliantly has surprised all after his early spring season "flop." He is the principal reason his team enjoys a 15 game lead in the International league.

Branch Rickey probably would have called him up before to aid his pennant drive. Dodgers next month, except that the Royals insisted Robinson be available for their post season playoffs.

Robinson has met with approval everywhere he has played. Robinson's teammates think highly of him and his Montreal manager Clay Hopper, a Mississippi cotton broker, says "Jackie's got all the guts in the world. He proved that to me during the season. He's a big league ball player, a good team hustler and a real gentleman."

Davis Cup luminary, and his wife, Marg Hardwick, former British Women's Singles Champion will play exhibition matches Friday, Aug. 23. Mr. Hare will play the best A. T. A. Men's Singles star Miss Hardwick will play the best A. T. A. Women's Singles player. Then Hare and Hardwick will combine to play the A. T. A. Mixed Doubles champions.

WASHINGTON, D. C. (NNPA)—

Joe Louis, the heavyweight champion, who was here last Friday to make a personal appearance and referee the feature bout of the amateur boxing show at Griffith Stadium that night for the benefit of the Junior Police and Citizens Corps, appeared not in the least bothered about his title fight with Tami Mauriello in Yankee Stadium Sept. 18.

Louis, nattily dressed in a brown sports suit, a Panama hat, and red and white bow tie, arrived at the National Airport here at 12:05 p. m. last Friday.

Expecting more trouble from Mauriello than Billy Conn gave him in their last fight, Joe described Mauriello as a boxer who keeps coming in all the time and said that type of fight is always dangerous.

Joe squared off with Al Schacht, the king clown of baseball, for the benefit of photographers assembled at the airport. It was raining at the time and Schacht carried an umbrella to protect himself and Louis from the rain while he secured Louis' autograph.

Louis broke training at Pompton Lakes, N. J., to come here for the benefit show, which was sponsored by the Variety Club, a white organization, whose members earn their livelihood from show business. He only recently started training after a tour of the golf tournaments in the Middle West, including Cleveland, Toledo, Detroit and Chicago. He weighed 213, six pounds more than the night he knocked out Conn.

At Griffith Stadium Friday night, Joe was given a tremendous ovation as he entered the ring after intermission and stayed on to work a hilarious "title bout" with Al Schacht vaulted over the top rope act.

Wearing boxing trunks, Schacht vaulted over the top rope and fell flat on his face, sending his boxing gloves, water bucket, towel and sponge flying in all directions.

The end of the feature bout, which Louis refereed, came with "dramatic suddenness in 48 seconds. Louis was ready to count out Charles Hahron, a Golden Gloves champion, when his seconds intervened. Hahron, dazed from the punch delivered by his opponent, Pugy King, was sent to Emergency Hospital as a precautionary measure. Both boys are white.

There were no mixed bouts because the District of Columbia Amateur Athletic Union will not sanction mixed bouts, but as a condition precedent to his coming in Joe demanded that there be both white and colored bouts on the card.

Joe left by plane Saturday morning for New York City from where he returned to Pompton Lakes to resume his training.

Bowlers' League To Elect Officers At Fun Bowl

By DANIEL S. MADDEN

Officers will be elected at a meeting of members of the Industrial League, a local bowlers group, at the Fun Bowl on Friday evening at 8:30.

Local bowlers have started their practice sessions at the Fun Bowl for the opening of the Fall and Winter season. Some of the ace city bowlers have been on hand at the Fun Bowl for practice sessions with the start of the Fall roundup. Quite a few local bowlers have been discharged from service in the Armed Forces since the end of the last season, and the prospects for a big season are very good.

(Correction for last week. Robert McComb was elected treasurer of the local Senate of the N.B.A.)

Our friend, Earls Turner of the Fun Bowl staff is working out a number of good ideas to promote a bigger and better season. Be sure to follow your Who's Who and What's What at the Fun Bowl, weekly in the Recorder.

Ace Hurlers of West Hold East to 1 Score

By SCOTTY SCOTT

CHICAGO, Aug. 18. — A finely geared, smoothly working combination of West All-Stars, the pick of the Negro American League for the fourth straight time administered a decisive trouncing to the best of the Negro National league, representing the East All-Stars, by the score of 4 to 1, before a near-capacity crowd in Comiskey Park here Sunday afternoon.

The second largest crowd of the 14-year series—45,474—screamed and handclapped their enjoyment of the sparkling baseball drama studded with the thrills of breathtaking plays, superb pitching and team coordination that gripped the interest of the huge throng in the expectation that "anything can happen."

Crowns Hurler in Game

What the goddess of chance permitted to happen was much to the liking of resourceful Quincy Trouppe, Cleveland Buckeye mentor, who won the privilege of managing the All-Star game. His careful selection of moundsmen included Chi Evans and Dan Bankhead, both of the Memphis Red Sox and "Long" Johnnie Williams, ace hurler for the Indianapolis Clowns. Each worked calmly and masterfully their control in tight spots enabling them to turn back any determined threats by the baffling East diamond stars.

Evans and Bankhead each allowed only one hit, while Williams was tagged for two hits and worked in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings, was credited with being the winning pitcher, his teammates smashing four runs across during the three-inning chore.

Equally as impressive as the West hurling performance was the brilliant work of Art Wilson, 25-year-old shortstop, of Birmingham, Ala., and second baseman Lonnie Davis, the great double-play combination of the Birmingham Black Barons.

Wilson was considered a strong and leading contender for the honor of landing a berth on the Brooklyn Dodgers last Spring, but Branch Rickey chose Jackie Robinson instead. Wilson's spectacular performances this year has no doubt convinced the Dodger mogul that he wouldn't have gone wrong if Wilson had been his choice. Incidentally, Robinson, playing with the Montreal Royals, is second among batters of the International league with an average of .377 as of last week.

West Scores First

In carving their game-winning four runs, the West rapped out seven hits off four East pitchers. Bill Byrd of the Baltimore Orioles, the losing pitcher was the victim of a two-run attack in the fourth inning. After Cleveland's Sam Jethroe, playing centerfield for the West popped out, Byrd gave up a free trip to Davis by virtue of a walk. Grace of the Buckeyes, smashed a sizzling shot to right, which scored Davis, when Gene Benson fumbled the ball, Grace moving safely to second. Alec Radcliffe, Memphis Red Sox veteran East-West performer, sacrificed Grace in third permitting him to score easily when Cowan Hyde singled to center, Hyde stole second and when Catcher Josh Gibson's throw of a pitchout sailed too high to Second Baseman Doby. With Hyde in scoring position, East strategy decided on an intentional pass to the dangerous West Catcher Troupe. The threat was ended when Pitcher Bankhead flied out, with the two game-winning runs already in the bag.

The spectacular Wilson led the West's second two-run foray in the fifth with a sharp infield hit, going to second on a sacrifice by Cleveland's Ware, who turned in a perfect job at first base. Jethroe was safe on an error, the fleet Wilson reaching third.

The Westerners brazenly scored the usual formidable throwing arm of the celebrated Josh Gibson, Jethroe dashing to second on a pitchout by Byrd and Wilson, a streaking like lightning toward the plate. He hit the dirt to slide across safely as Second Baseman Doby's rifle-throw was snared by Gibson too high to tag Wilson in time. The crowd roared its delight at the daring double steal.

Davis proved himself very much in the game by rifling a single to center, scoring Jethroe. That smack was Byrd's swan song. Relieved Pitcher Jonas Gaudner retired the side as Grace's grounder forced Davis at second and Grace was caught trying to steal second. Gibson, this time, making a perfect throw. During the two-hour and 14-minute show, the veteran Gibson knocked off four runners trying to beat his throws to second.

East Scores Late

The East's lone tally came in the eighth with a bit of help. Williams' first pitch in that inning struck Watkins, pinch-hitter, giving him a hold on first base. Pinch-hitter Pat Scantlebury singled to center, sending Watkins to third. Tom Butts, Baltimore, running for Scantlebury was forced by Henry Kimbro, Watkins holding third. Doby flied out in deep left to Hyde, Watkins scoring, after which Kimbro was caught trying to steal second on the play on Watkins at the plate. Long Johnnie Williams easily retired the Easterners in the ninth, ending the historic classic.

HONDURAS PUG LOSES FIGHT TO CHICAGOAN

CHICAGO (ANP)—A fifth-round technical knockout ended the fighting spirit of Roy Cadle, a native of British Honduras, here Wednesday evening at Comiskey Park. Cadle's conqueror was Johnny Bratton, local lightweight contender, who convinced the 7,511 cash customers in the first round that Roy would not be around for the final 12th. Bratton's explosive left foot dropped Cadle in the second round for a two count.

He rose gallantly only to have his Chicagoan batter him mercilessly with a two-handed attack. Bratton ripped open a gash in Roy's nose in the third, took it easy on the Honduras fighter in the fourth and finished him in the fifth. Cadle was dropped for two nine counts in the fifth by deadly left hooks before the fight was ended while he round was two minutes and 26 seconds old.

The main event was followed by a two-round technical knockout of Vince Pimpinello, New York, by Joe Satterfield, local light-heavyweight boxer. Casey Jones, a New York fighter, ended his three-round out with Levi Southall, Kansas City, by a spectacular third-round knockout.

Ted Woodward, Columbus, Ohio, was kayoed by Bill Peterson, Indiana Harbor heavyweight, in the second round, but Joe Maxim, Cleveland heavyweight, was satisfied to settle for a 10-round decision over Henry Cooper, a New York heavyweight. Cooper lost very round, but managed to remain on his feet.

Ga. People Shun Probe Of Mass Lynching

MONROE, Ga. (ANP)—Although a month has elapsed since a mob of 20 whites lined up two men and their wives in a thicket near here and shot them down in a hall of fire from rifles, shotguns and revolvers, no arrests have been made and only one suspect has been viewed by the sole witness of the massacre. This suspect was released for lack of identification.

Indifference and inaction are held to be contributing to the failure of state and federal authorities to solve the South's worst lynching in 20 years. A wall of silence has been erected around the murderers that even the present rewards totaling more than $42,000 cannot crack. "Nobody knows anything," one authority commented.

The sheriff of Walton County admitted he is doing nothing. Even the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, arriving on the scene a day late and finding all possible evidence removed by unknown parties, has made little progress. Nor has the FBI opened up a lead.

While he admits progress is "slow" Gov. Ellis Arnall is still said to be hopeful of arrests, but Gov-Elect Gene Talmadge remains indifferent. Talmadge opened up long enough to remark "the rest of the country can't seem to understand these things down here."

Meanwhile Monroe and Walton County citizens are becoming more indignant over the publicity and so-called "distorted" news accounts of the crime than they are with the failure of authorities to catch the guilty parties.

The lone suspect brought in for questioning and confronted by Loy Harrison, employer of the two Negro men killed, for identification, was Lester Little, bouncer at the County Line Beer Garden. At first it was thought he answered the description given by Harrison of one of the mob, but Harrison said he was not the man.

Girls, Stowaways From England, Sent Home From Texas

HOUSTON, Texas (ANP)—Spotted by immigration authorities several days after they had slipped ashore here, two English girls, Jenn Marie Cook, 20, and Renee Morris Zegansky, 17, are aboard a ship returning to the United Kingdom, after their failure to marry their Negro sweethearts.

The two girls met two messmen, T. J. Hanna and Theodore Bell, in London last Spring and agreed to marry them if they were smuggled into America. They arrived in Galveston as stowaways aboard the S. S. William C. Endicott and slipped ashore. They had been in the United States several days living with a Negro family in Hitchcock, Texas, before immigration officers rounded them up and put them in a Galveston jail. Their two sweethearts received prison sentences for aiding aliens to enter the country.

On board the ship Roy James Cole returning to England, the girls expressed their regret that they did not get to Pittsburgh to marry their sweethearts, but Renee remarked, "We learned a lot about America."

South American Countries Seek More People; No Negroes Desired

(Associated Negro Press)

South American countries want to increase their populations. Among the countries and continents which are especially anxious to develop a greater population are Argentina, Brazil and Australia.

Each is taking active steps to encourage settlers to come to their respective countries. They are holding out special inducements, even offering farms with governmental financial support in some cases. The rub comes in the qualifications which they set up for immigrants. They do not want Negroes.

Brazil with an area greater than that of the United States but with only one-third as many people, wants immigrants and expects the government to extend the quota system and to put into effect a group colonization plan probably late this summer when parliament meets. A Brazilian mission is abroad now looking for suitable climate and similar agriculture. Peru, Columbia and Venezuela want Europeans of any sort.

Australia has been noted for its exclusion of non-white peoples even though it has a large brown aborigine population of its own. They base their refusal to accept oriental and darker peoples on a desire to avoid cheap, competitive labor.

A. M. E. WORLD EYES NEW YORK COURT CASE

NEW YORK (ANP)—Ministers and the membership of A.M.E. churches in New York and elsewhere are looking toward Sept. 23, when a hearing will be held in the New York Supreme Court to decide whether Bishop R. R. Wright or Bishop David H. Sims is to have charge of A.M.E. affairs in the New York area.

The bishops' council, when it met in Kansas City several weeks ago, appointed Bishop Wright associate bishop over the New York conference. This action, it is said, was meant to place Bishop Wright in complete charge, but the word "associate" was used in order not to embarrass Bishop Sims.

Bishop Sims is said to have signed the document, but after he reached New York and Philadelphia and conferred with his friends and attorneys, decided to contest the matter and took it to the civil courts.

Rebellion Against Sims

The current battle began two years ago when certain ministers and laymen in New York rebelled against what they claimed were unbearable taxes levied by Bishop Sims and demanded an accounting for certain funds and investments of the conference they claimed had never been properly explained. The ministers went to court. Bishop Sims removed and disciplined these ministers who were opposing him.

The fight was carried to the bishops' council with the contention that the church in this area was being disrupted. The council finally voted to put Wright in charge and to empower him to straighten out the controversy. Bishop Sims' suit to restrain him brought the matter to a head. If the court on Sept. 23 decides in favor of Bishop Sims, the matter will revert to its earlier position. If it decides that the bishops' council is right, then Bishop Sims' power will have been broken, although he will still have the New Jersey, Philadelphia and Bermuda conferences under his control.

War Vet Woodard Says He Lost Eyes in Aiken

NEW YORK (ANP)—"There just ain't no doubt about it. I lost my eyes in Aiken, S. C., reiterated Isaac Woodard, veteran of the Pacific Theater, here last week. Woodard, the victim of a brutal beating by two policemen which cost him his eyesight, evinced surprise that Aiken authorities disclaimed any knowledge of the incident which put him in the Veterans' Hospital at Columbia, S. C., for two months.

Woodard related that he left Atlanta on a Greyhound bus bound for Winnsboro, S. C., to see his wife. About 17 miles outside Atlanta, he had an altercation with the bus driver. During the course of the journey, Woodard continued, he forgot about the incident. But as they reached a big town, which he later told was Aiken, the driver pulled over to the side of the road, got out and talked with a policeman.

Beaten Unconscious

Woodard was ordered out of the bus and the two policemen took him to jail, on the way beating him into unconsciousness. It was when they reached the jail that the billies were struck in his eyes. "I could still see when they threw me into a cell," said Woodard, "but the next morning when I woke up I couldn't see at all.

"They wouldn't get me a doctor," he further stated, "and my eyes hurt worse. Finally, late in the afternoon, one of the men who beat me up—I could tell by his voice—put me in a car and drove me over to the hospital at Columbia."

Wanting to be sure just where it was he had been beaten, he asked, "What town is this anyhow?" and received for an answer: "This is Aiken, S. C."

BATESBURG, S. C. (ANP)—A self-defense claim was made here last week by Police Chief L. J. Shaw in admitting that he blinded Isaac Woodard, a Negro veteran, several weeks ago. Shaw holds that the veteran, now permanently blinded, was "drunk" and could not be subdued without hitting him between the eyes with a blackjack.

An investigation has already been made by the Veterans' Administration, Shaw disclosed. "They had no unfavorable comments to make," he remarked. "They saw that it had to be done that way in order to arrest him after he was thrown off a bus drunk."

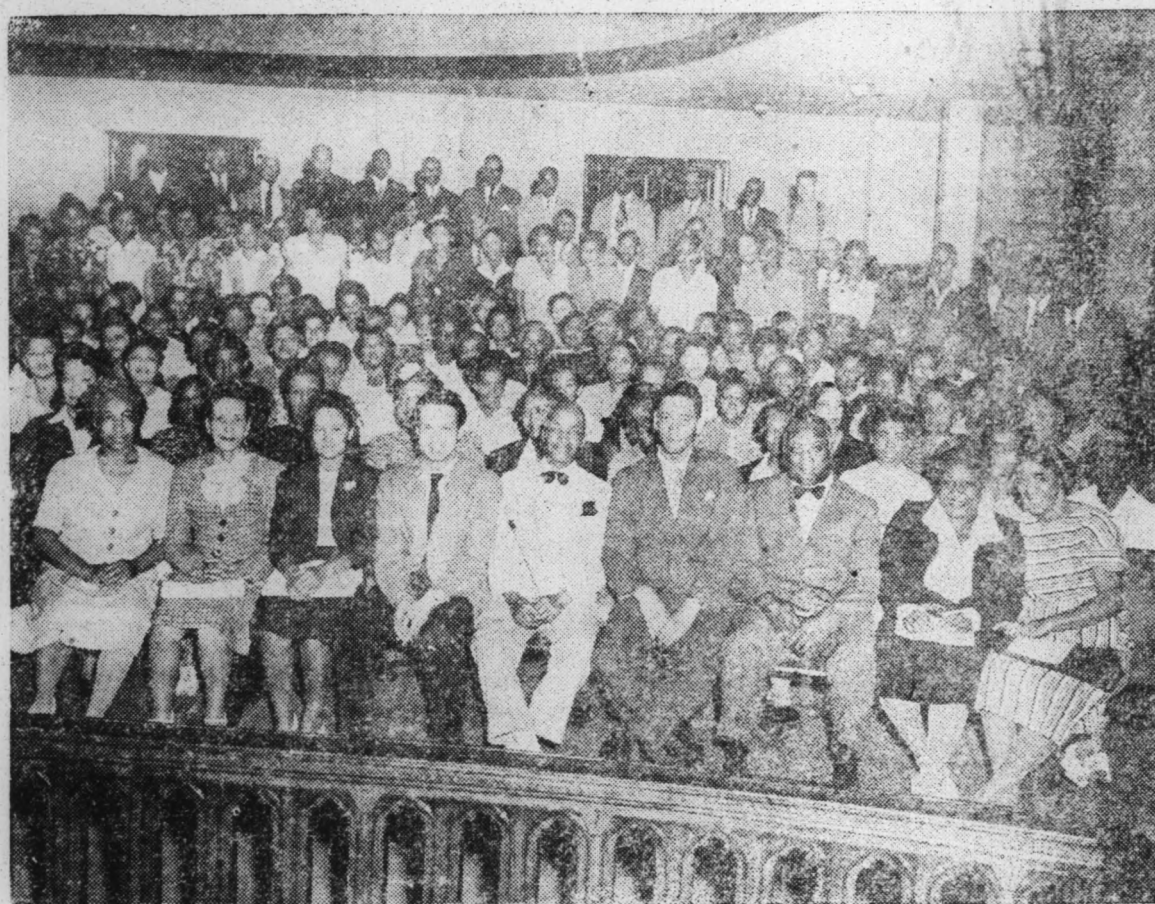

Woodard, now living with relatives in New York state, thought the incident happened in Aiken,

S. C., but the provost marshal's office of the Seventh Army in Atlanta, learned that it happened here. The veteran had just been discharged a few hours when he was blinded.

FRISCO STAGES PROTEST AGAINST GA. LYNCHERS

SAN FRANCISCO (ANP)—In protest against the wave of lynch terror in the South, two coffins marked "Murdered in Georgia" carried by eight pallbearers featured a demonstration of 5,000 Negro and white citizens here last week.

Among the organizations represented in the demonstration were the CIO Longshoremen's Local 10; AFL Miscellaneous Employees Local 10; Chinese American Citizens' League, National Council of Jewish Women, San Francisco Ministerial Alliance, Japanese American Citizens' League, National Citizens PAC, NAACP and the Communist Party.

GI'S DEATH SENTENCE IN FRANCE COMMUTED; AIDED BY RECORDER

The death sentences of two soldiers who were court-martialed at Cherbourg, France, have been reduced to 15 years' confinement following intervention of The Recorder and Indianapolis residents; a man's behalf, it was learned this week.

E. M. Fellen, secretary to Congressman Louis Ludlow, forwarded to The Recorder a report from Maj. Gen. Thomas H. Green, Judge Advocate General of the U. S. Army. The report showed that the men's sentences have been reduced from death by hanging to 15 years' confinement in a U. S. disciplinary barracks.

The soldiers, former Pfc. Lewis R. Curry and former Pvt. Charles Williams, are from Oregon and Louisiana respectively. They were convicted of desertion, misapplying Army property and the murder of two French civilians.

Write to Recorder

In some manner which has never been fully explained, the men while imprisoned and awaiting execution of the sentence, obtained a copy of The Recorder and determined to write to this newspaper in a bid for help. Alvin, friendless and facing death, they apparently knew of no one in their home communities to whom they might appeal.

The Recorder called on Rev. Judge I. Saunders of Shiloh Baptist church, president of the Baptist Ministerial Alliance, who interested himself in efforts to secure clemency for the soldiers. The matter was brought to the attention of Congressman Ludlow and Senators Raymond E. Willis and Homer E. Caghart, who relayed the Indianapolis appeals to the Secretary of War.

The men's sentences were reduced by stages as they passed before various reviewing authorities. It was revealed by the Judge Advocate General's report. The desertion charge against Curry was thrown out by the army confirming authority. At the end of the Army-law trail, Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson disapproved the finding of guilt on the murder charge against both men. The only charge which was sustained all the way against both men was that of misapplying Army property.

Seek Complete Facts

What was the reason for the severe court-martial findings and sentences in the first place? What is the full story behind the case of the two men? The answers to these questions are still shrouded in mystery. Further efforts to discover the facts will be made by The Recorder.

STATE OF GA. TO PROBE KKK N. J. BUND TIES

ATLANTA (ANP)—Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook of Georgia last week ordered his assistant, Dan Duke, to confer with the attorney generals of New York and New Jersey in an effort to determine the ties between the German-American Bund and the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

The Georgia attorney general said that he was "particularly interested in the joint meetings of the Bund and Klan immediately preceding World War II." News dispatches at the time reported that Klansmen appeared on the platform at a New Jersey meeting, which Bund Fuehrer Fritz Kohn, now deported to Germany, attended.

The possibility arose that witnesses to this joint gathering may be brought to Georgia to testify in the state's suit to dissolve the national Klan charter. The suit is scheduled for trial in Fulton Superior Court in September.

Atty. Gen. Nathaniel L. Goldstein, who succeeded in voiding the Klan's charter in New York, has charged he has evidence showing that the New York KKK stemmed from the national charter which Georgia is seeking to revoke.

Atty. Gen. Walter Van Riper, New Jersey, with whom Dan Duke also will confer, is in the process of fighting to cancel the KKK's charter in his state.

by The Recorder.
The Judge Advocate General's letter concluded:

"So long as Curry and Williams are confined overseas, the matter of further clemency in their cases is vested within the jurisdiction of the Commanding General, United States Forces, European Theater, APO 757, Postmaster, New York, N. Y., to whom any material in support thereof should be addressed."

Defense Charges Illegal Jury Panel In Tenn. "Riot" Trial

LAWRENCEBURG, Tenn. (ANP)—Lawyers for the defense of the Negro citizens indicted in the Columbia, Tenn., race riots last February continued last week to attack racial inequalities before Circuit Court Judge Joe M. Ingram in the tiny Lawrence County courtroom here.

Z. Alexander Looby, chief defense counsel, sought to quash the jury panel was drawn up by "illegal" regularities. He charged that the panel was drawn up by illegal manipulations of the list and that qualified Negroes were barred from the jury box from which the panel was drawn.

Fifteen Negroes were among the 24 veniremen who appeared in Judge Ingram's court. They were seen as the result of the continued sniping at injustices against Negroes by defense lawyers Looby, Maurice Weaver, white, and Thurmond Marshall, now ill in New York. Dr. L. A. Ansom is substituting for Marshall.

Atty. Gen. Clark "Openly Deplores" Georgia Lynchings

The Department of Justice has hopes of uncovering federal violations in the Monroe, Ga., lynchings, Attorney General Tom C. Clark informed Sen. Raymond E. Willis recently. The Attorney General's letter was forwarded by Senator Willis to The Recorder, which had requested all Indiana members of Congress and candidates to demand federal intervention in the case.

Declaring that the FBI has been "carrying on a diligent investigation," Attorney General Clark indicated the possibility that no federal action will be taken, when he added: "In the event that violations of state law are disclosed, we will refer them to the Governor of Georgia for proper action."

The Attorney General vouchsafed that he personally is "openly" opposed to lynching. "As you know, I personally have openly deplored such manifestations of mob law and will do everything in my power to protect the civil liberties of all American citizens," he wrote.

MUNCIE—The sum of $200 to be added to the reward offered for the fiendish lynchings of Monroe, Ga., was contributed here last week by delegates to the annual session of the Most Worshipful Prince Hall Grand Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, of the Jurisdiction of Indiana.

The convention—ninetieth of the order in Indiana—also called on President Truman to support anti-lynching legislation.

C. R. Richardson was re-elected grand master for the tenth time by approximately 200 delegates who attended the session at the Phyllis Wheatley YWCA.

Mayor John C. Hampton welcomed the convention. The opening reception was held at Bethel A. M. E. Church, of which Rev. H. D. Sanders is pastor. Among those on the program were Grand Master Richardson, Grovel Peelle, William Jackson and S. C. Golts. Leo Williams was master of ceremonies.

Social activities included the grand ball, held in the armory and a smoker at the club rooms of the Widows' Son Lodge.

The various lodges contributed several thousand dollars for the proposed building fund. The trustees are Ralph Pettiford of Muncie, Duke Carter of Richmond and Von Casey of Marion.

A public relations commission was set up with Dr. Dennis A. Bethea of Hammond as chairman. Other members included Judge Charles H. Willis, South Bend, secretary; Andrew Ramsey and Joseph Mimms, both of Indianapolis, and Carl L. Burnam, Muncie.

In addition to Grand Master Richardson, officers elected were: deputy grand master Edgar J. Davis, East Chicago; grand senior warden, George Smith, Jeffersonville; grand junior warden, David Barnes, Indianapolis; grand secretary, Harry Hastie, Evansville; grand treasurer, B. T. TENN. POLITICIANS SEE NO U. S. HAND IN DIXIE MOB RULE

WASHINGTON, D. C. (ANP)—Decrying the recent outbreak of race rioting in Athens, Ala., Gov. designate James E. Folsom and Sen. designate John J. Sparkman, both declared here last week that no solution for these riotous acts could be found in federal legislation.

Folsom declared he was in agreement with Sparkman who stated, "Athens is just a short distance from my home town of Huntsville. I certainly was surprised to hear of any race trouble there, for our communities have been particularly successful in such matters. I believe that this is backlash from the war and soon will subside. Certainly it cannot be cured by federal laws. It must and will be worked out in the Southern states themselves."

Folsom also pointed out that there was a vast difference in the Athens rioting and the election day riots of ex-service men in Athens, Tenn.

"I think the boys at Athens, Tenn., did the right thing," he said. "The very basis of our democracy depends upon a square count of the ballots. That, of course is a very different thing from any race rioting."

RETAILING LOCAL LIQUOR TRAFFIC EVIL

The removal of a three-way vote to sell alcoholic liquor was denied last week by Mr. Roy Van Meter, president of the Indiana Liquor Control Commission. The ALCC said this ruling after the Marion County Liquor Board had agreed to sell a license of the license of the establishment.

The license is not, according to report of several law enforcement agencies, with a long record of drunken brawls, and some members of the tavern have been identified with numerous criminal activities. The president of the Board of Public Affairs, William R. Hume, Jr., recently mentioned that this tavern had a particularly bad record in relation to high repeating liquor traffic.

The Marion County Board issued in a majority vote was to allow the license of this tavern contrary to its own policy law enforcement agencies. And this caused a strong feeling of animosity on the relation of liquor traffic and politics in our country.

The removal of the license of the Marion County Board, which is not, has not the order he made the removal of a license for this tavern. And Mr. Hume has opposed the removal of license for several other taverns in Marion County. The removal of license of these taverns have caused liquor traffic to flourish.

Louisville Pastor Will Be Speaker

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — QUINN CHAPEL, Dr. C. Horace Jenkins will be guest speaker for the inter-denominational meeting at Jacob Street A.M.E. church Wednesday evening. Officers, members, and friends of Quinn and other churches are expected to attend the meeting. * * * At the National Youth council convention in Chicago Miss Betty Morgan, Philadelphia, reported $35. Miss Ann Hill, Louisville, $25; and Miss Jerry Emerson, Tulsa, Okla., $15. The meeting was well attended by the youth and adults of the A.M.E. church from all parts of the United States and island possessions in the western hemisphere. * * * Mrs. Doris McField, well-known nurse and member of Quinn chapel will entertain the Sunday school auxiliary at her home, 1925 Magazine street next Thursday. Punch and cookies will be served to members and friends

THIS PILLAR OF INFO was glad to hear of the PROMOTION of Officer Sargeon Davenport to detective investigator. . . . We had hoped the brilliant young officer would be made a detective sergeant. . . . He's an efficient investigator and should really go places. . . . He's now teamed with our good friend, James Rogers, another brilliant young policeman. . . . Another murder has hit the news since we wrote our little say about appointing two Negroes to the homicide squad. . . . Which to our way of thinking, should cinch the appointment. . . . It would be a good deal, Chief. . . . While on the subject it would also be a good deal to make another Negro sergeant, thereby making three shifts, with a roving lieutenant.

RECORDER BRASS-HATS returned Sunday from a successful piscatorial exploration along the waters of Bear Lake and Big Pine, deep in the wilds of Minnesota, about 198 miles north of St. Paul. Photo expert Irvin, rookie angler, caught the largest fish. It was a nine-pound, 36-inch Great Northern. . . . The gang caught a total of 138 pounds. According to the newsmen, the Big Boss, M. C. S., almost froze one night when the thermometer dropped to 42. The boys carried safety devices and report that one day, while out in the middle of the river, the Boss discovered that he did not have his life belt on. They said he did a Jesse Owens in getting into that choice piece of rubber. . . . Included in the party were Messrs. Irvin, Bailey, Stewart, Thompson, Doolen, Craig and little Marcus and George, sons of the publisher. Watch for pictures in next week's edition.

THE SEVEN WONDER CLUB REPORTS an enjoyable time on their Trail-A-Way bus ride to Louisville August 10, according to Mrs. Edna Neal, secretary. . . . Johnny Jackson and party are all agog over the good time they had in Chi last Sunday, especially when they knocked themselves out at the Club DeLisa. . . . James McQueen and Opal Tandy are still playing in the Windy City at this writing (Tuesday noon). . . . Newsmen Scotty Scott, Howard (foreman) Filmore, Leland (Adv. Mgr.) Bailey, Tom (I take pix) Irvin and Benjamin (chili parlor) Brown also played hard in Chi Sunday. The gang jumped back home early Monday. . . . Irving Miller's Brownskin Models are due at the Sunset Sunday nite, Aug. 25. . . .

LOCAL CITIZENS ARE URGED TO COME in and make a CONTRIBUTION to the Georgia Defense Fund. Come in today, or mail your check and help a worthy cause. . . . Plan now to spend your vacation in Buffalo with the Elks. Excursion train leaves Saturday, August 24. YOU CAN RETURN AT ANY TIME OVER THE NEW YORK CENTRAL. . . . Plenty of fun promised on the train. Come on, let's shuffle on to Buffalo. . . . We hear a lotta talk about veterans' housing. . . . How about the Negro veteran? Isn't he supposed to have a place to live? We wonder. . . . A pamphlet being mailed to hotels throughout the country had this to say about rooms or suites. . . . "Each room should contain today's dated menu, and it might also include a fresh copy of today's local newspaper with a tab on it expressing the compliments of the manager. Beds, desks and chairs arranged under handy lights; proper sized bulbs in the lamps—and lamp shades that do not shower dust. It also mentions clean rugs, sufficient clothes hangers in the closet, bath mat dry and clean; shower adjusted, and so forth." It would be a good deal if Negro hotels, especially those charging exorbitant prices, would copy these suggestions.

GOVERNOR GATES HAS FINALLY ASKED FOR THE REPORTS ON TWO taverns. Mom's tavern is one of them. The Owl, according to reports, has received its license. The Governor said he wanted to examine the reports since the question had arisen over ABC action on a divided local board. . . . If the police record was used on the Owl, we can't possibly see how they made it. We have never seen any food in the place, other than a few boiled eggs. But Negro taverns must have a completely equipped kitchen. Mom's tavern operates with two outmoded toilets out in the yard with no privacy for women, and their police record should be a "daisy." . . . The Oriental and Geller's were palaces beside these joints. . . . We're still wondering why they closed the Oriental. . . . How about the tavern out at 25th and Martindale, across the street from Douglas Park, where young people hear all kinds of language when passing. They got their license, police record notwithstanding. Can you figure it out, Governor Gates? We can't. . . . P. S.—Mom's Tavern's license has been refused, according to information reaching us at press time.

MR. AND MRS. Fletcher Miller are vacationing in Idlewild, Mich. Accompanying them on their trip are their son-in-law and daughter, the Charles Tollivers and son, former owner of The Royal Palm nite club.

MISS SO AND SO, MAKE A NOTE OF THIS: WELL, I WENT TO THE ALL-STAR GAME. Everybody was laughing at and kidding me for going when I don't even understand the game. But I didn't care. The All-Star game had a special significance to me. This time last year I was in Appelhulsen, Germany. All the fellows from Georgia, Chicago, itself, and everywhere, were talking about the game and about how they were going to attend one some day in about 1947 when the war would be over. Naturally, I had to keep my promise. . . . It does not mean because I did not see a person that he was not there, but I got ground and saw lots of them. They say Gilbert Randolph Wayman was there, or rather he was supposed to be headed in that general direction; but, I did not see him going up on the plane with me. I did not see him at the game.

I did not see him Tuesday evening on the returning plane with me. But, of course, he could have been there because there are many ways of going: bus, freightcar, hojo, etc. (Smiles.)

THE PEOPLE I DEFINITELY know were in Chicago included, Hugh Bell, William (Bill) Owens (sat with him) and Mose Long, James (Sonny) Sebre, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cross, saw them again at the DeLisa; bought Hortense Downman and Alma Simmons a drink at the DuSable Lounge, and was lemoneaded in return by them; never did see Edna Barnett, the well-dressed woman, but talked to her on the phone from across town. Her husband, Samuel, the flying postman, outdid us all for color and action. As late as Saturday night, he was trying desperately to get plane reservations and remarked,

IF I CAN'T GO VIA PLANE I will not go at all. Finally he made it. He flew in early Sunday morning, saw Ernie Pyle's "Story of G.I. Joe," the new Lester Cowan - United Artists screen production which glorifies the plain American infantry soldier, has a love story in its background. Yet only two women have featured roles in it. And the cast doesn't boast of even one sweater girl.

When Producer Cowan began work on the screen version of "Joe," he decided that there was an opportunity to weave in the romantic angle without making this theme too obvious.

He was, he said, proceeding on the theory that when in a man's mind during an emotional experience is frequently more profound and dramatic and compelling than any story action. Here, it was decided, the love interest would be taken care of through the medium of symbols or by what Mr. Cowan calls the "intangibles."

In screening this picture, the producer made two concessions to what might pass for realism in the minds of the audience. He did insert the scene in which a love-starved Brooklyn Yank encounters a voluptuous and willing Italian girl as he crashes into the interior of a shell-raked building. Also, he filmed a sequence which pictures the marriage of a Yank officer and an American army nurse—and their not-too-private honeymoon within the shelter of an immobile ambulance which stood nearby.

On the same bill Sunday at the Walker are Lou Jordan and Maurice Rocco in an all-colored song show, "Rocco Blues"; plus "Why Girls Leave Home."

CORP. CHESTER NOLAN and Sgt. Fred Sprague in a scene from "Ernie Pyle's Story of G. I. Joe," booked for showing Sunday at the Walker.

Announce Winners Of "He Ba Ba Rebo" Contest

CHICAGO, (ANP)—Winners of the "He Ba Ba Rebo" song contest were announced here last week by Lionel Hampton, famous vibraphonist and orchestra leader. The song contest, based on the new verses for the Hampton tune, co-authored by Gladys Hampton and Curley Hammer, opened April 6 and closed July 1.

Best verse submitted for the current popular tune came from Gloria Patricia Boyd, Cleveland, who took first prize of $200; second prize of $125, went to Frederick D. Meredith, Columbus, O.; while Annabell Caldwell, Portland, Ore., took third for $100; and Joe Swift, Pasadena, Cal., got $25 for fourth place.

Hampton, commenting on the contest, said "My main interest is to encourage aspiring young people who want to enter the field of music. I hope the entrants in the contest had as much fun writing verses as I did conducting it and reading the various entries."

Over 1,500 entries poured in from practically every state in the union, and even from such places as Tokyo, Japan, and Geneva, Switzerland. Another contest is planned based upon a new Hampton hit "The Pencil Broke and That's All She Wrote."

Marian Anderson's Greatest Triumph

CHICAGO—Maestro Arturo Toscanini has called Marian Anderson the "voice of the century," and critics have lauded her with accolades, but the great Negro concert singer's greatest personal triumph lies in a simple experience with her mother.

Miss Anderson's concert manager S. Hurok reveals in "How I Discovered Marian Anderson" in the September issue of Negro Digest that the singer's greatest thrill "was the day I went home and told my mother she wouldn't need to take home work anymore."

Miss Anderson's mother was a widow, Hurok explains, with three little girls to support. She took in washing to keep her family together. Untold effort and sacrifice were necessary for her to help her daughter reach the top.

During one of Miss Anderson's many successful European tours she asked her mother what gift she would like, Hurok says. All of the good things of life were now within their reach. Came back the reply from Mrs. Anderson:

"All I want is for God to hold my daughter in the hollow of His hand and raise up the people to be kind."

The A-V-E-N-O-O

the game, had a couple of drinks with his wife and her relatives, then boarded a plane and got back to Naptown all in the same day and was ready for his mail route the next day. Some guy, eh. . . I saw Atty. Edward Suber driving his Red Devil at 47th and South Park. He doesn't create so much noise in the Big City. . . Iotis Bell, the Eli Lilly cooking master, flew to Chi for a fishing trip and ended up spreading rhythm around his aunt's home, Mrs. Azline Howard, who runs two apartments and a grocery store on the West Side. She also prepared an early steak breakfast for Ruby W. Gilmore, who went also via Eastern Airlines.

I went all over Chicago, in and out of taverns, looking for COUNT BASIE'S LAZY LADY BLUES. Finally found it at the Brass Rail and played it about an hour. The Lazy Lady Blues reminds me of Lama P. Thomas. Thas is from the sleeping angle. . . Police Patrolman Albert Booth and wife and relatives were at the game, also. Gertrude Collins, Martha Alums, the bar-maid, her brother, Fred (Boots) Alums, and Roberta Bridges were right at third base. Gertrude was interested in one of the pitchers; Martha wanted to go to the Blue Heaven club, and Roberta was wearing a tall, becoming hat. That hat may get Roberta in trouble. It will make the wolves seek her out. . . The dance team, Salt and Pepper, who started out early with the Sky Club here, are dancing their way into the hearts of the public at the DeLisa.

Mrs. Lula Drake, Mrs. Alberta Tensley, and Mrs. Marie Lewis all went up to the game via the famous South Wind. . . Alonia (Lonesome) Howser and her husband, stood around a little after the game and then came home because of family illness here. . . Alonzo Phennessee, of the Elks was drinking cokes and eating hot dogs at the main bar at Comiskey Park. . . Mrs. Jesse Copeland, formerly of this city, invited me to a chicken dinner, but I never could make it. . . OH, YES, I JUST LEARNED FROM RELIABLE sources that MR. WAYMAN DID ACTUALLY PASS through Chicago. He and Charles (the Kat) Edwards went on to Milwaukee, Wisc. They spent most of their time AT JOE HARRIS' bar. They returned sometime between midnight and dawn. . . TWO SOLDIERS WHO ALLEGEDLY KILLED AND ROBBED two Frenchmen were sentenced to death by an Army court-martial. They managed to get a letter to The Recorder. We investigated and made special efforts in their behalf. We were just informed by two Indiana Senators that their sentences have been commuted to 15-year prison terms. That much time is a lot of time but it is much better than death and then, too, they always stand a chance of another hearing. They had no money, we worked for them, anyway. We will always do this if the facts show that help is actually needed. . . PEOPLE IN THE STREET ARE saying that Turner Harwell, the interior decorator, who shot Wendell Willis to death, should get the chair. You can't try a man yourself, but that's the way the public feels now. Mrs. Willis was unusually popular. THE LEVI WATKINS DEATH was investigated and partially broken by Recorder reporters and a policeman who does not wish to have his name published. Instead of the usual procedure of The Recorder printing information for the police, this officer tipped us off and we went to work

Pedro Lane Is Doing a Good Job at the Popular 440 Club

Pedro Lane, strutting fashion plate at the 440 Club is really doing a bang up job at the spot, and is credited with giving the spot one of the finest shows ever produced in the popular brightery. Pedro and his Lanettes headline a super-duper attraction currently wowing patrons of the popular spot. Augmenting the bill are Mickey, Anita and Ruth, formerly with Katharine Dunham; Miss Ernestine Cooper, sweet song stylist; Tiny Brown, lady of songs; Rubber Legs Williams, comedienne; Wally Wilson, baritone, and Miller's 440 Band.

COUNT BASIE BACK AT NITERY

NEW YORK—Playing his first local nitery engagement in almost two years in his current stay at the Aquarium Cafe on Broadway, Count Basie has unquestionably found a home for himself after signing for a return date at the Aquarium next January or February. Adding to his many triumphs of the past, the Count set a new all-time attendance record at the Aquarium, erasing all previous high marks of Les Brown, Gene Krupa and Lionel Hampton according to Ben Harriman, owner of the popular Broadway dine-and-dance spot.

The Count, whose latest platter of "High Tide" and "Lazy Lady Blues" has gone over the half-million mark in sales, has done two Columbia recording sessions during his current New York sojourn. His newest effort, due for release this week, pairs "Blue Skies" and "The King," the latter having been penned by the Count in honor of his good friend, Benny Goodman. The Basie record of "Blue Skies," which has a vocal by Jimmy "Mister Blues" Rushing, is regarded as the best version to date of the immortal Irving Berlin favorite.

from there on. . . P. S.—Thelma Whitted, the physician-dental secretary, and Ernestine Goins, the female fashion-plate, have just returned from a whirlwind tour up East. They went to Niagara Falls. They topped off their tour by sending the Zanzibar menu home to their friends via mail. Some nerve. (Smiles.)

BILLY ECKSTINE TAPS RECORDS

NEW YORK—Billy Eckstine, who has won wide popularity thru his reviving of old standards via records, follows this pattern in his latest release on the National label. Billy has dug way back this time for a real oldie, "I've Gotta Pass By Your House To Get To Mine," a song that has been dormant for almost two decades. On the reverse side of the Eckstine disc is a new blues by Billy, "It Ain't Like That No More" with the romantic singing idol featured on both vocals.

Billy, who is one of the hottest favorites in the nation's jukeboxes, is getting plenty of romance from the major waxworks who know that his contract with the National firm expires in a few months.

"Bad Bascomb" Due At Indiana Sunday

Two hundred Indian braves of the Arapahoe and Shoshone tribes turned actors to appear in M-G-M's new story of the old West, "Bad Bascomb," which opens at the Indiana Theater with Wallace Beery and Eric Margaret O'Brien co-starred for the first time.

Negotiations for the employment of the Indians in the production were concluded at a tribal council held at the Wind River Indian Reservation near Lander, Wyoming. Chief Six Feathers of the Arapahoes and Chief Holding-Two Guns of the Shoshones were the first to sign up for the film roles. Upon completion of the picture, Beery and Miss O'Brien were made honorary Chief and Princess of the two tribes, Beery being christened Chief-Blue-Sky Eagle and Miss O'Brien winning the title of Princess-White-Little-Flower.

The stars were presented with elaborate feather headdresses and were invited to smoke the pipe of peace and friendship at the feast which followed the ceremonies. Other members of the "Bad Bascomb" cast who attended included Marjorie Main, J. Carrol Naish, Frances Rafferty, Marshall Thompson and Russell Simpson.

THUGS ASSAULT NEGRO ENTERTAINERS IN GREENWICH VILLAGE

NEW YORK (ANP) — Three well-known entertainers from the show at the Downtown Cafe Society were set upon by a score of young hoodlums early Sunday morning as they approached the subway en route home from work. Miss Sarah Vaughn, singer, George Treadwell, musician and Miss Naomi Wright, attendant, were those attacked, the two girls being the particular object of the fury of the young thugs. They were struck, kicked and spat upon by the filthy mouthed morons. The youths as they threatened them revealed that their object was to drive Negroes out of Greenwich Village in which the cafe is located. Police promised to investigate saying they thought they knew the gang.

"Road to Utopia" At Douglas Sunday

Three of screenland's most seasoned travelers cap their zany adventures with an hilarious trek up the "Road to Utopia," Paramount's latest "Road" film due on Sunday at the Douglas theater. Insiders say that Bing Crosby, Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour have hit the millennium in laughs in this slap-happy gag-a-minute show which takes the tireless trio into the gold-studded Yukon.

The object of their misadventures is a rich mine buried in the snowcapped Alaskan hills. It's Dot's inheritance, but two of the Yukon's shootiest thugs are out to swipe it, so Bob and Bing assure Lamour they'll beat them to the punch. The trip is made just a bit more difficult when the two boys mistake the ship's porthole for a safe and throw their boat fare to shark's fins. With their last dollar floating away, Bob and Bing have to start working their way northward. Reports indicate that this and other such situations make the script provided by Norman Panama and Melvin Frank a gold mine of laughs.

Nancy Kelly and William Gar-gan are teamed romantically and adventurously in Universal's "Song of the Sarong" now playing at the Douglas theater. Miss Kelly appears as a castaway princess in a mythical South Seas island paradise. Garzan has the role of an American "wild goose" chaser who seeks a fortune in sacred pearls believed to be hidden in the tropic domain.

Jimmie Lunceford May Soon Be His Own Boss

NEW YORK—Jimmie Lunceford, who is currently enjoying his 18th year as one of America's most popular bandleaders, may soon be in the position of hiring himself as his own boss. The veteran maestro is shopping around for a suburban dream-dance spot, either in New Jersey or Westchester County, New York. Lunceford's proposed venture would definitely be a name band spot, and he intends either to purchase a location, if a suitable one can be found, or to build one himself. The Lunceford operation would be along the lines of spots like the Meadowbrook and Rustic Cabins in New Jersey and the Post Lodge and Glen Island Casino in Westchester. None of these spots play colored bands.

Jimmie already is eyeing one site, a large roadhouse in North Jersey which closed during the days of gas rationing and never reopened. Once his dine-and-dance rendezvous gets underway, Jimmie will play the first few weeks with his own band and then book in other leading name band attractions, both white and colored.

CAMP MEETING CHOIR HAS RECORD CONCERTS IN THE EAST

NEW YORK, N. Y. (By Lou Scala Swartz) Camp meeting choir, which is managed by Edward Hill of Winston-Salem, North Carolina has had a record-breaking season while here in the East. Several New York appearances have been sponsored by Bishop Lawson of the Refuge Temple and by Edna Mae Crenshaw, local promoter.

Everywhere the choir appears the singers are heralded for their exquisite blending of tones and their unique arrangements. J. Garland Wilson, the Director can feel himself proud not only because he makes these arrangements, but his direction has been of such calibre that the Camp Meeting Chor really executes just in the right way.

Their Eastern appearances have taken them into the Madison Square Garden, Randall Island, Abyssinia Baptist church, and also the Refuge Temple. The Group has also made several recordings with the Diamond Recording company - and the sales are constantly going up. Mr. Hill, the manager seems very pleased over the success of his camp meeting choir, and the fact that the Group has been free for a ten-day rest period since last August. "It's a natural thing that any place the Group sings the sign is usually SOS.

JOE LOUIS AND ORSON WELLES TO HEAD HUMAN WELFARE DRIVE

NEW YORK, N. Y. (GNS) — When the Southern Conference for Human Welfare has its much-needed Drive here in September it will be headed by two Greats: Joe Louis and Orson Welles.

Plans are well under way in New York Office here where petite and charming Branson Price has just returned from a Southern Tour where some conditions for the Negroes are still somewhat working under deplorable conditions. Many of such conditions and special cases have been helped by this Group which was formed in 1938 with the purpose "To improve economic, social, spiritual and cultural conditions of the people of the South without regard to race, creed, or color."

In order to get the drive before an unlimited number of people here a luncheon for the Inter-denominational Ministerial Alliance is being held here at the Hotel Theresa next week.

The Drive of the Conference will no doubt be a grand success with the Committee having such chairmen as Joe Louis, boxing Champ and Orson Wells, theater champ.

WALLACE BEERY has had many a leading lady in his long career as a film star, ranging from the unforgettable Marie Dressler to the popular Marjorie Main. I wish to express my deep appreciation and gratitude to my friends, relatives, lodge brothers, church and club members for the beautiful convalescent cards, floral bouquets, visitations and blood donations given me during my recent confinement at City Hospital. These kind gestures will never be forgotten.

U. S. Has Much "Unfinished Business"

By Chas. S. Duke for ANP

In a recent issue of the daily newspaper, PM, financed by the liberal millionaire, Marshall Field, correspondent Saul Padover indicated that the underlying question of peace "is one of domestic reforms and internal economic-social stability in the domestic sphere." This succinct statement carries our minds back to the days of World War I which was allegedly "fought to make the world safe for democracy."

If, however, there was any question of the full coverage of the horizon of liberality in World War I objectives, World War II was fought under the aegis of the Atlantic charter in which the four freedoms were a certified end product. It might easily be that unfinished business in social and economic reforms together with democratic frustrations at home are contributing causes of the difficulties confronting Byrnes, Bevin and Molotov.

There is no question but that both England and Russia have their full share of domestic problems. So far as our own country is concerned internal problems within the last 12 months have taken on proportions which threaten our domestic tranquility and economic security, unless, perchance, more liberal forces take over the helm of the Ship of State when the new congress comes into being in the next few months.

The last congress did not see fit to pass a number of important bills relating to the economic welfare of all citizens of our country black and white alike. The failure by congress to pass a bill reestablishing the FEPC, one abolishing the poll-tax and another making lynching a federal offense presents a most serious situation so far as the colored citizens of this country are concerned. Maybe congress is not to blame, but the people north, south, east and west for not putting enough "heat" upon congress. No doubt this factor will be reflected more or less in the personnel of which the new congress will be constituted and the subsequent position it will take upon these matters.

The almost unbelievable truculence of some southern senators and congressmen during these times of dangerous world situations has created for the colored citizens of the south an atmosphere very similar to that created for the Jews of Hitler Germany. Generally unafraid, the colored citizens of the south have stood to their guns, largely taking advantage of their new voting privileges. On their side have been the liberal southerners, the Southern Conference for Human Welfare and the redoubtable Gov. Aronall of Georgia. It may well be that the resurgence of the liberal southerner will be the largest contribution to the restoration of America to the truly democratic column.

While we welcome the peaceful revolution engineered by the black minority of the south in the quest for their legal voting rights as the true technique for advancement in a democratic framework, the militant white ex-soldier of the ballot boxes. And so, the corrupt politicians of the south finds his chances coming home to roost. In many communities of the south the local governments were taken over years ago by violence and retained by fraud, are now being recaptured for democracy by the sons of the fathers who acquired them through violence for a privileged group.

There was once a time when the politician was held in disrepute. Politics was considered an "unclean thing." Now we find that nearly all of our rights have been taken away from us because we were not more politically-minded. Our legislative machinery does not quickly respond to the popular will. Fascist influences, as sand in a sensitive bearing box, retard the production of liberal legislation by our law making bodies. Like much other needed legislation the Wagner-Elender-Taft housing bill is still bogged down in the house of representatives. You should sit right down and write your congressman a letter of protest.

NAACP NAMES GA. LYNCHERS, WHITE REPORTS

NEW YORK (ANP)—The names of six men charged with being members of the gang who lynched four Georgia Negroes July 25 have been in the possession of Atty. Gen. Tom Clark, it was revealed here last week by Walter White, secretary of the NAACP. It was also reported that the Georgia Bureau of Investigation was also in possession of the evidence given to the FBI.

Speaking in a conference with a group of Broadway actors working to get justice in the Georgia case, White said, "I gave the names of these six men to Atty. Gen. Tom Clark in Washington last Wednesday, July 31."

This disclosure came two days after it was learned that Gov. Elbert D. Tamm of Georgia had conferred with one of the lynchings on the eve of the massacre. However, the NAACP is not making public the names of the six men for fear the lynchings will be able to trace those who obtained the evidence before the federal government or the state of Georgia is able to act.

"The evidence against the lynchings was gathered by NAACP investigators, both white and Negro," he added.

ARMY TURNS MAN IN GERMANY OVER TO MISS. JUSTICE

NATCHEZ, Miss. (ANP)—Listed on the docket of the next criminal court session here in November is the case of Stanley Mitchell, sought since July 8, 1938, for the slaying of Willie Rawlings. Mitchell was traced by Sheriff Audley B. Connor to the U. S. Army Occupation Forces in Germany, and was returned here recently after the judge advocate general's office issued instructions for the turning over of the murder suspect into the hands of civil authorities.

Rawlings was shot during a previous administration of Sheriff Connor, who kept up the search for the fugitive until his term of office expired. In 1944, Connor again became sheriff and resumed the hunt for Mitchell, and finally located him about four months ago in an occupation unit in Germany.
